CR 100 317 box 1 fd. 14 Speach by Gov. Young in Counsel on a Bill relating to Offican Slavery. Jan. 93 d. 1852

I have this section in my hand referring to alway headed Our bill act in relation to affrican slavery. I have Read it over, and made a few alterations. I will demark with regard to slavery, In as much Jas A beleive in the Bible, inasmuch as it believe in the ordenances of God, in the Preisthood and order, of had, I must beleive in Slavery. This conserve race have been subjected to severe ourses, which they have in there families, and their classes, in their various capasities brought upon themselves. and until the evise is removed by him who placed it upon them they must suffer under its consequences; I am not antherised to remove it. I am a firm believer in slavery. now to the case before us with regard to slowery, with regard Slaves that affricans, or that are English, or that Dutch, or ourselves, I go in for making laws Just such lows as we want upon that another, independant of any other nation under the heavens; let us do that we want to be done reg-= arolless of the abuses of despotie Governments. Whether they Oleem it to be right or wrong is no matter to me, but to do the thing we ought to do, to seeme those bleorings we are in pursuite of ought to be the first, and most weighty consider. - ation with us; that is my mind upon this matter. This case somes up and causes feelings of not a pleasing carr. - acter in the minds of some. The affrican enjoyes the right of receiving the the first principles of the Gospel, this liberting is held out to all these servants, they enjoy the liberty of being baptized for the remission of sins, and of receiving the holes Gohst by the laying on of hands; they eyon the proviledge of living humble before the Lord their great master, so as to enjoy the spirit of the Lord continually; in short on far as the common comforts of life, is salvation, light, truth, Engonne and the understanding is conserned the black affrican has precisely the same privilege, as the white man. They cannot hold the preisthood, and in asmuch as they cannot bear any the share in the prevolhood they cannot bear sule, and until they cannot bear rule in any place until the curse is removed from them, they are a servoint of servants; we are servoints, as for Jeo Inith has stated, he soup he is a slave, has been driven from his home, and his rights, we are all slaves servoints; now suppose that we shrould have a servoint, and he should be a negro, it is all right it is perfectly reasonable, and strickly according to the Holy presthood. I loath the abuses that are hoped to which the slave in a great many instances is eseposed, although as a general thing that part of the negro race that are in ser.

- vile bondage, are onuch more comportable, and letter provides for than the same are onuch more comportable, and letter provides

Though the inlightened nation England, has abolished Havery in her colonies, yet the most danmable slavery escists at the very heart of the nation. It am bold to say that you cannot find a black man or woman, in the U.S. that has travaled through the period of his life in hungar in the midst of plenty, yet there are millions upon milions who have in the lities of Wrope who have lived amidot The choisest lugwils of life, and died at last in starvation; thousands died of starvation in England, the year that I was in that country. That is nearer slavery than to set them to work in growing cotten, and stargan I would not wish to go to the enlightened nation of England to know what slavery is because they are so for sunken in miquely and so deeply acgracied; people contend about it to know what it is; we know it exists, and such a thing shall and will exist intil The Lord shall remove it, until there it will and ought There # a many Me " in the south # a grat amount of whose means is wested in claves, those servants want to some here with their masters, when they come here the devil is aaised; this one is to talking, and that one is wondering a trong abolitionist feeling has power over them, and they commence to wesper round their vernes upon the subject, saying do you think its right, I am apraise it is not night; I know it is right, and there should be a law made to have the seaves serve their master, because they are not capable of auling themselves; when the Lord God owised old cain, he said, until the last drops of attes abels Blood reserves the preisthood, and enjoyes the blessings of the same, cain shall bear the ewise;" then Cain is calleneated to have his share nevet, and not until then; consequently I am firm in the beleif that they ought to awell in servitude. The Caption of this Rise I done like, I have therefore taken the liberty to after it, I have said an act in relation to manual service" instead of affrican Slavery; I have also attered the latterpart of I am willing the Bill should be thrown back to be remodeled, and I would like master to behave well to their servants, and to see that every person in this "erritory is well used. When a master has a negro, and uses him well, he is much better off than if he was free; as for Masters knocking down and whiping them, and breaking then links of their servourts I have as little opinion of that as any person can have, but good wholesome servitude I know there is nothing better than that. Supose I am ni England, and bring over 100 persons, males, and females and they pledge themselves to pay me in labour but as soon as they arrive here they refuse to abide by their contract and turn round and abuse their benifacters. See the abuse that Dan Jones has received, who prevailed upon hoter Lewis to spend almost every Dime she possessed to help individuals to this place; they curse both her, and him Day they ought to be her servants, and this they will centry to do waseing worse, and worse until they go down to kell many more such cases could be brought to bear, There should be a law to govern this, that those who have made Contracts to labour, they may perporm their labours according to said cartracts

Speech by Gov. young on manual labour In Counsel Jan 24. 1832

~ =